DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 10, line 1+, it is unclear whether the phrase "...for transferring substrates from a first operating module comprising a first rotor adapted to carry...second rotor adapted to carry...", is intended to be a positively recited limitation or not. The phrase, as written, appears to be part of the preamble stating intended use since in line 4 of the claim begins to state what the "apparatus comprises", rather than what it is "for". For clarity on what should be given patentable weight, the examiner suggest writing the claim in accordance with 37 CFR 1.75(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 10, 12, 13, 19, 20, 21, 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cvacho USP 3563170. Cvacho discloses a similar device comprising a(n):

- Flexible conveyor (fig. 21)
- Plurality of transfer units (140) that rotate while they are moved
- Cam track (172)
- Means for driving said conveying means (151, 152)
- Cam followers (fig. 21) that ride in said cam track (172)
- Drive pulley (151 or 152) and idler pulley (151 or 152)

3. Claims 1, 2, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 25, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Alexander USP 3330400. Alexander discloses a similar device comprising a(n):

- Flexible conveyor (fig. 21)
- Plurality of transfer units (27) that rotate while they are moved
- Cam track (46, 48)
- Means for driving said conveying means (inherent)
- Cam followers (44) that ride in said cam track (46, 48)
- Drive pulley (22 or 23) and idler pulley (22 or 23)
- Rotatable arm (43) linked to said transfer units (27)

Art Unit: 3651

4. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by De Vos USP 6234300. De Vos discloses a similar device comprising a(n):

- Flexible conveyor (12)
- Plurality of transfer units (17) that rotate while they are moved
- Cam track (28)
- Means for driving said conveying means (inherent)
- Cam followers (29) that ride in said cam track (28)
- Drive pulley (fig. 1) and idler pulley (fig. 1)
- First and second retainers (31) made of an elastomeric material
- Rotateable actuator arm & plunger shafts (fig. 3-5) linked to transfer units

5. Claims 1-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-6 of US Patent 6742646. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they only differ in obvious variations of breadth and scope.

Conclusion

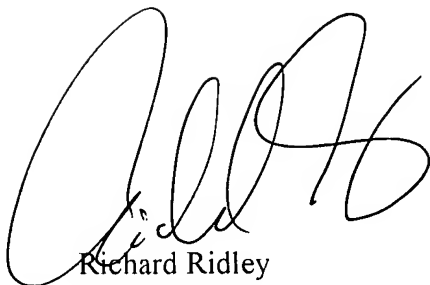

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
